

The compound BaZrO_3 has an ideal cubic perovskite structure. The barium atoms sit at the corners of a simple cubic unit cell, the oxygen atoms sit on the faces and the zirconium atom sits at the center.

